Why do environmentalists (including St. Luke's Green Team) care about climate change, conservation, pollution, poor water quality and nature in general?

Our nation has been so blessed with natural resources that we take these blessings for granted. Many people in third world countries have suffered for many years because of drought, lack of clean water, and fossil fuel pollution. But changes are happening. These issues are beginning to affect the United States. Let's promote earth-care for all. We are called to preserve and treasure all of God's gifts, including trees, wind, soil, garden flowers and veggies, animals and human nature.
